[¶ 13.] 2. whether the trial court erred by not finding that the granting of a temporary easement from the remaining thirty feet of the road easement to the banyants would affect the banyants' existing use of the right-of-way. [¶ 14.] the trial court found that the granting of the temporary easement would not affect the banyants' existing use of the right-of-way. the temporary easement allows the banyants to use the right-of-way for a temporary period of time. the use of a temporary easement does not change the character of an easement. Miller v. Oftedahl, 317 N.W.2d 809, 812 (S.D. 1982). further, the temporary easement does not increase the burden on the servient estate, and does not change the burdens on both parties. id. the trial court found that the temporary easement would not affect the banyants' use of the right-of-way. we agree. issue 3 [¶ 15.] whether the trial court erred by refusing to award attorney's fees to the banyants. [¶ 16.] this court has held that "[a]ssertion of the right of an owner of land to compensation for an easement condemned is dependent upon a showing of actual loss of value." State ex rel.

state highway comm'n v. messner, 298 n.2d 88, 95 (s.1980). in messner, we found that the landowner failed to establish a loss of market value. [¶ 17.] the trial court found that the banyants did not establish a loss of market value. the banyants also argue that they should be awarded attorney's fees because the county failed to institute suit until after ninety days passed. sdcl 31-4-38 provides that an action by the state or a county to condemn property shall be brought within ninety days. in the present case, the county filed the complaint on august 18, 1999. the banyants did not answer the complaint. the banyants did not file an answer until november 5, 1999, over two months after the complaint was filed. the banyants did not respond to the complaint until november 10, 1999, or until the hearing on the case. after the county filed its answer, the banyants failed to file a motion for summary judgment.
